

PCI College

Postgraduate Certificate Family Therapeutic Skills

September 2020 Application

This programme is designed to provide students with clinical skills and theoretical underpinnings to inform their work with families and gain a Postgraduate Qualification.
Validated by Middlesex University.

About the course

This course will appeal to those who are interested in family therapy, theory, training and working systemically with families. Systemic family therapeutic skills centre around relationships in the context of families, couples and other groups. It is a creative, innovative and thought provoking model of psychotherapy which places sound ethics at the heart of the work. Students can expect a high quality, cutting-edge programme that captures and imparts a modern understanding of family therapy informed theory and practice that can be incorporated into a variety of practitioner's contexts such as counselling, teaching, psychology, social care and the allied health professions. It is designed to provide students with an introduction to clinical skills and theoretical underpinnings to inform their work and to gain an understanding of the major theories and models of family psychotherapy, as well as an overview of the social, practical, ethical and cultural issues that arise when working with families.

The course is validated by Middlesex University, and is designed to supplement trainees' existing qualifications. Please note that the Post Graduate Certificate in Family Counselling & Psychotherapeutic Skills course is not a stand-alone counselling qualification, and does not qualify you as a Professional Accredited Counsellor, as it is not an accredited course.

The course is recommended for counsellors, psychotherapists, teachers, guidance counsellors, youth workers, social workers, social care workers, psychologists and others working with children and adolescents.
